Question 3

A is the first statement of this parajumble, the others need to be arranged after A. Any answers for the best logical sequence possible?

A) Personal experience of mothering and motherhood are largely framed in relation to two discernible or official discourses; the medical discourse and natural childbirth discourse. Both of these tend to focus on the optimistic stories of birth and mothering and underpin stereotypes of the godmother.

B) At the same time, the need for medical expert guidance is also a feature for contemporary reproduction and motherhood. But constructions of good mothering have not always been so conceived and in different contexts may exist in parallel to other equally dominant discourses.

C) Similarly, historical work has shown how what are now taken for granted aspects of reproduction and mothering practices result from contemporary pseudoscientific directives and managed constructs. These changes have led to a reframing of modern discourses that pattern pregnancy and motherhood leading to an acceptance of the need for greater expert management.

D) The contrasting, overlapping and ambiguous strands with in these frameworks focus to varying degrees on a woman's biological tie to her child and predisposition to instinctively know and be able to care for her child.

E) In addition, a third, unofficial popular discourse comprising old wives tales and based on maternal experiences of childbirth has also been noted. These discourses have also been acknowledged in work exploring the experiences of those who apparently do not conform to conventional stereotypes of the good mother?
